Euclid Media Group launches Out In SA, San Antonio's LGBT magazine

Cleveland-based company launches new multimedia property

San Antonio, TX — On November 19, Cleveland, OH-based Euclid Media Group published the premiere issue of Out In SA, the city magazine for queer San Antonio, with coverage of local politics, arts, culture, real estate, shopping, style, and food, and a team of advice columnists for our diverse lives: parenting, sex, identity and more.

The magazine features the writing and creative work of more than 30 LGBT community members and allies, from QSanAntonio founder Sam Sanchez to entertainer Jade Esteban Estrada and author William Jack Sibley, from Professor Amy Stone to literary critic Christine Garza and photojournalist Antonia Padilla.

In the 108 full-color pages of our Winter 2015 issue, you'll find stories about workplace equality, the bad behavior that sent Robert Tobin into self-imposed exile, Air BnB best practices, the culture of hunting and eating game, and entrepreneurs like Michael Bobo, W.D. Deli co-owner and parfumeur.

You'll also find many of the beautiful and interesting faces that make up our LGBT community: Marisela Fonseca and Gina Ramirez, who challenged the ice house that kicked them out for kissing on the dance floor; Marsha Warren, Mayor Ivy Taylor's LGBT Liaison; Lick owners Anthony Sobotik and Chad Palmatier; attorney Justin Nichols, who represents NDO complainants; caterer and farmers-market pioneer Chuck Hernandez; and actress Renee Garvens.

Out In SA is published quarterly in the Winter, Spring, Summer and Fall by Euclid Media. It is distributed at more than 200 locations in San Antonio, including Whole Foods, public-library branches, W.D. Deli, and shops and restaurants at the Pearl. Our website, out-in-sa.com, has been live since October 1, with ongoing news coverage in Sam Sanchez's QSA and a free community calendar. The magazine and website also feature a local LGBT business directory.

Out In SA Winter 2015 is out now. The Spring 2015 issue of Out In SA will be available late February, just before the Out in SA official launch party, Out for Brunch in March at the Southwest School of Arts.
